'68 FORUM

Volume
XLV

Preface

In designing the 1968 Forum, we have tried to establish the relationship of each individual and his activities to the elapsing moment.

Each activity blends together in the minds of all concerned to make our school year a slowly progressing account for future memories.

In condensing the Forum, we have achieved quality rather than quantity.

With more color and a greater variety of faces, we have succeeded in showing our interests for everyone. To present to the reader an unbiased view, there are more pictures of students in action.

In conclusion, we hope you realize the importance of each moment as they are aesthetic. To express this beauty, our school year is entitled "ARTISTRY IN MOTION."

Forum Dedication Goes To Kenneth West And . . .

Mr. West contemplates

Mr. West

This year the Forum is honored to dedicate the 1968 book to Mr. Kenneth West and Mrs. Imogene Montgomery.

Mr. West holds these degrees from Ohio State, a B.A., B.E.E., B.S. in Education, B.M. and a S.C.

He instructs algebra and physics and is always known for his politeness and keen interest in student and school affairs.

The one time principal of our school has two daughters Carol, who is now Mrs. Andrew Skeen and Betsy, who is a 1968 graduate of our school.

Mr. West and his wife, Edith, enjoy good music, contract bridge, good books and school affairs.

Mr. West has also established a reputation on the local golf greens.

Imogene Montgomery

Mrs. Imogene Montgomery teaches all levels of French and took great pride in establishing a French IV section a few years ago.

Besides teaching French I, II, III, and IV, Mrs. Montgomery has instructed Spanish I, II, and III in previous years.

Graduating with a B.A. from Denison University, where she was in Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Alpha Theta, she had graduate study at McGill University in Montreal Canada, and achieved a M.A. at Toledo University.

Taking pride in her profession, Mrs. Montgomery is a Life Member of the Ohio Education Association and the National Education Association. She also has membership in the Mount Vernon Educational Association, Modern Language Association, Department of Foreign Languages of the National Education Association, and American Association of Teachers of French.

A Mount Vernon resident all her life, Mrs. Montgomery has guided and influenced many students throughout her 40 year career.

Administration and Faculty

Ruth Crumm, Clerk; Board Members, Harry Turner, Richard Anderson, George Edick, Sue Frary, and Paul Slaughter.

Guiding the School System

This year the Board was headed by re-elected President, Harry Turner, who is a local lawyer. He is in his third consecutive term.

Vice-President for the Board was George Edick, an employee of the Cooper Bessemer management division.

Richard Anderson, a local agricultural man, was elected to his second consecutive term.

Newcomers to the Board were Mrs. Sue Frary, elected for her first term and Mr. Paul Slaughter.

Mrs. Frary is a dietician at the Eastern Star Home.

Mr. Slaughter, Public Relations Director for the First Knox National Bank, was appointed by the Board to fill Mrs. Mary Minnich's term. Mrs. Minnich retired after 12 years of service.

Huddling for a conference are Dr. Hogan, Mr. Edick, Mr. Sykes, Mr. Moyer, Mr. Slaughter.

Our School District Officials

Serving as chief administrators for the school district were Superintendent Dr. Earl Hogan; Assistant Superintendent, Mr. Merlin Sykes; and Mr. Herbert Moyer as Director of Instruction.

Dr. Hogan has overall responsibility for the school district. Mr. Sykes works as his assistant and specializes with business. Both men are in their second year.

Mr. Moyer's main duties deal with the instruction and curriculums in our school district.

Our School Administrators

Each is always willing to help students personally or in matters dealing with school policy.

The team is highly respected by teachers, parents, and students.

MR. JUMP

Mr. Jump listens as Mr. Del Cornwell, Junior High School teacher, explains himself.

Guidance Offers Many Services

Guidance services include career interviewing, testing, counseling, helping students in college choices and supplying references for various student needs.

The guidance counselors are Miss Nancy Stillwell and Mr. Robert Thompson. They are assisted by their able secretary Mrs. Mereille Regensberg.

In addition to helping students, the Guidance personnel aids teachers in knowing the educational backgrounds of their students.

Mr. Robert Thompson cracks a funny.

Miss Nancy Stillwell (on lap) tells Santa Claus (Terry Hall) her yule-tide wishes while Santa's helper (Chuck Doup) dangles a mistletoe above her head.

The large amount of paperwork in guidance is handled through the efficient secretary, Mrs. Mereille Regensberg.

Curriculum

This year the English Department offered a new novel course. The semester course, featuring depth studying of famous novels, was instructed by Mrs. Thera Marble

Another new course, Speech II, was shoved into the curriculum in the second semester. Taught by Mr. Simpson, the course continued the fundamentals of Speech I and had problems concerning speech, drama, and debate.

Mrs. Sue Griggs was a new sophomore English teacher this year.

In another department shift, Mrs. Roeder took over the Honors English 10 sections.

The English Department also spent time revising the total English program grades 9-12.

English Department Induces Creative Abilities

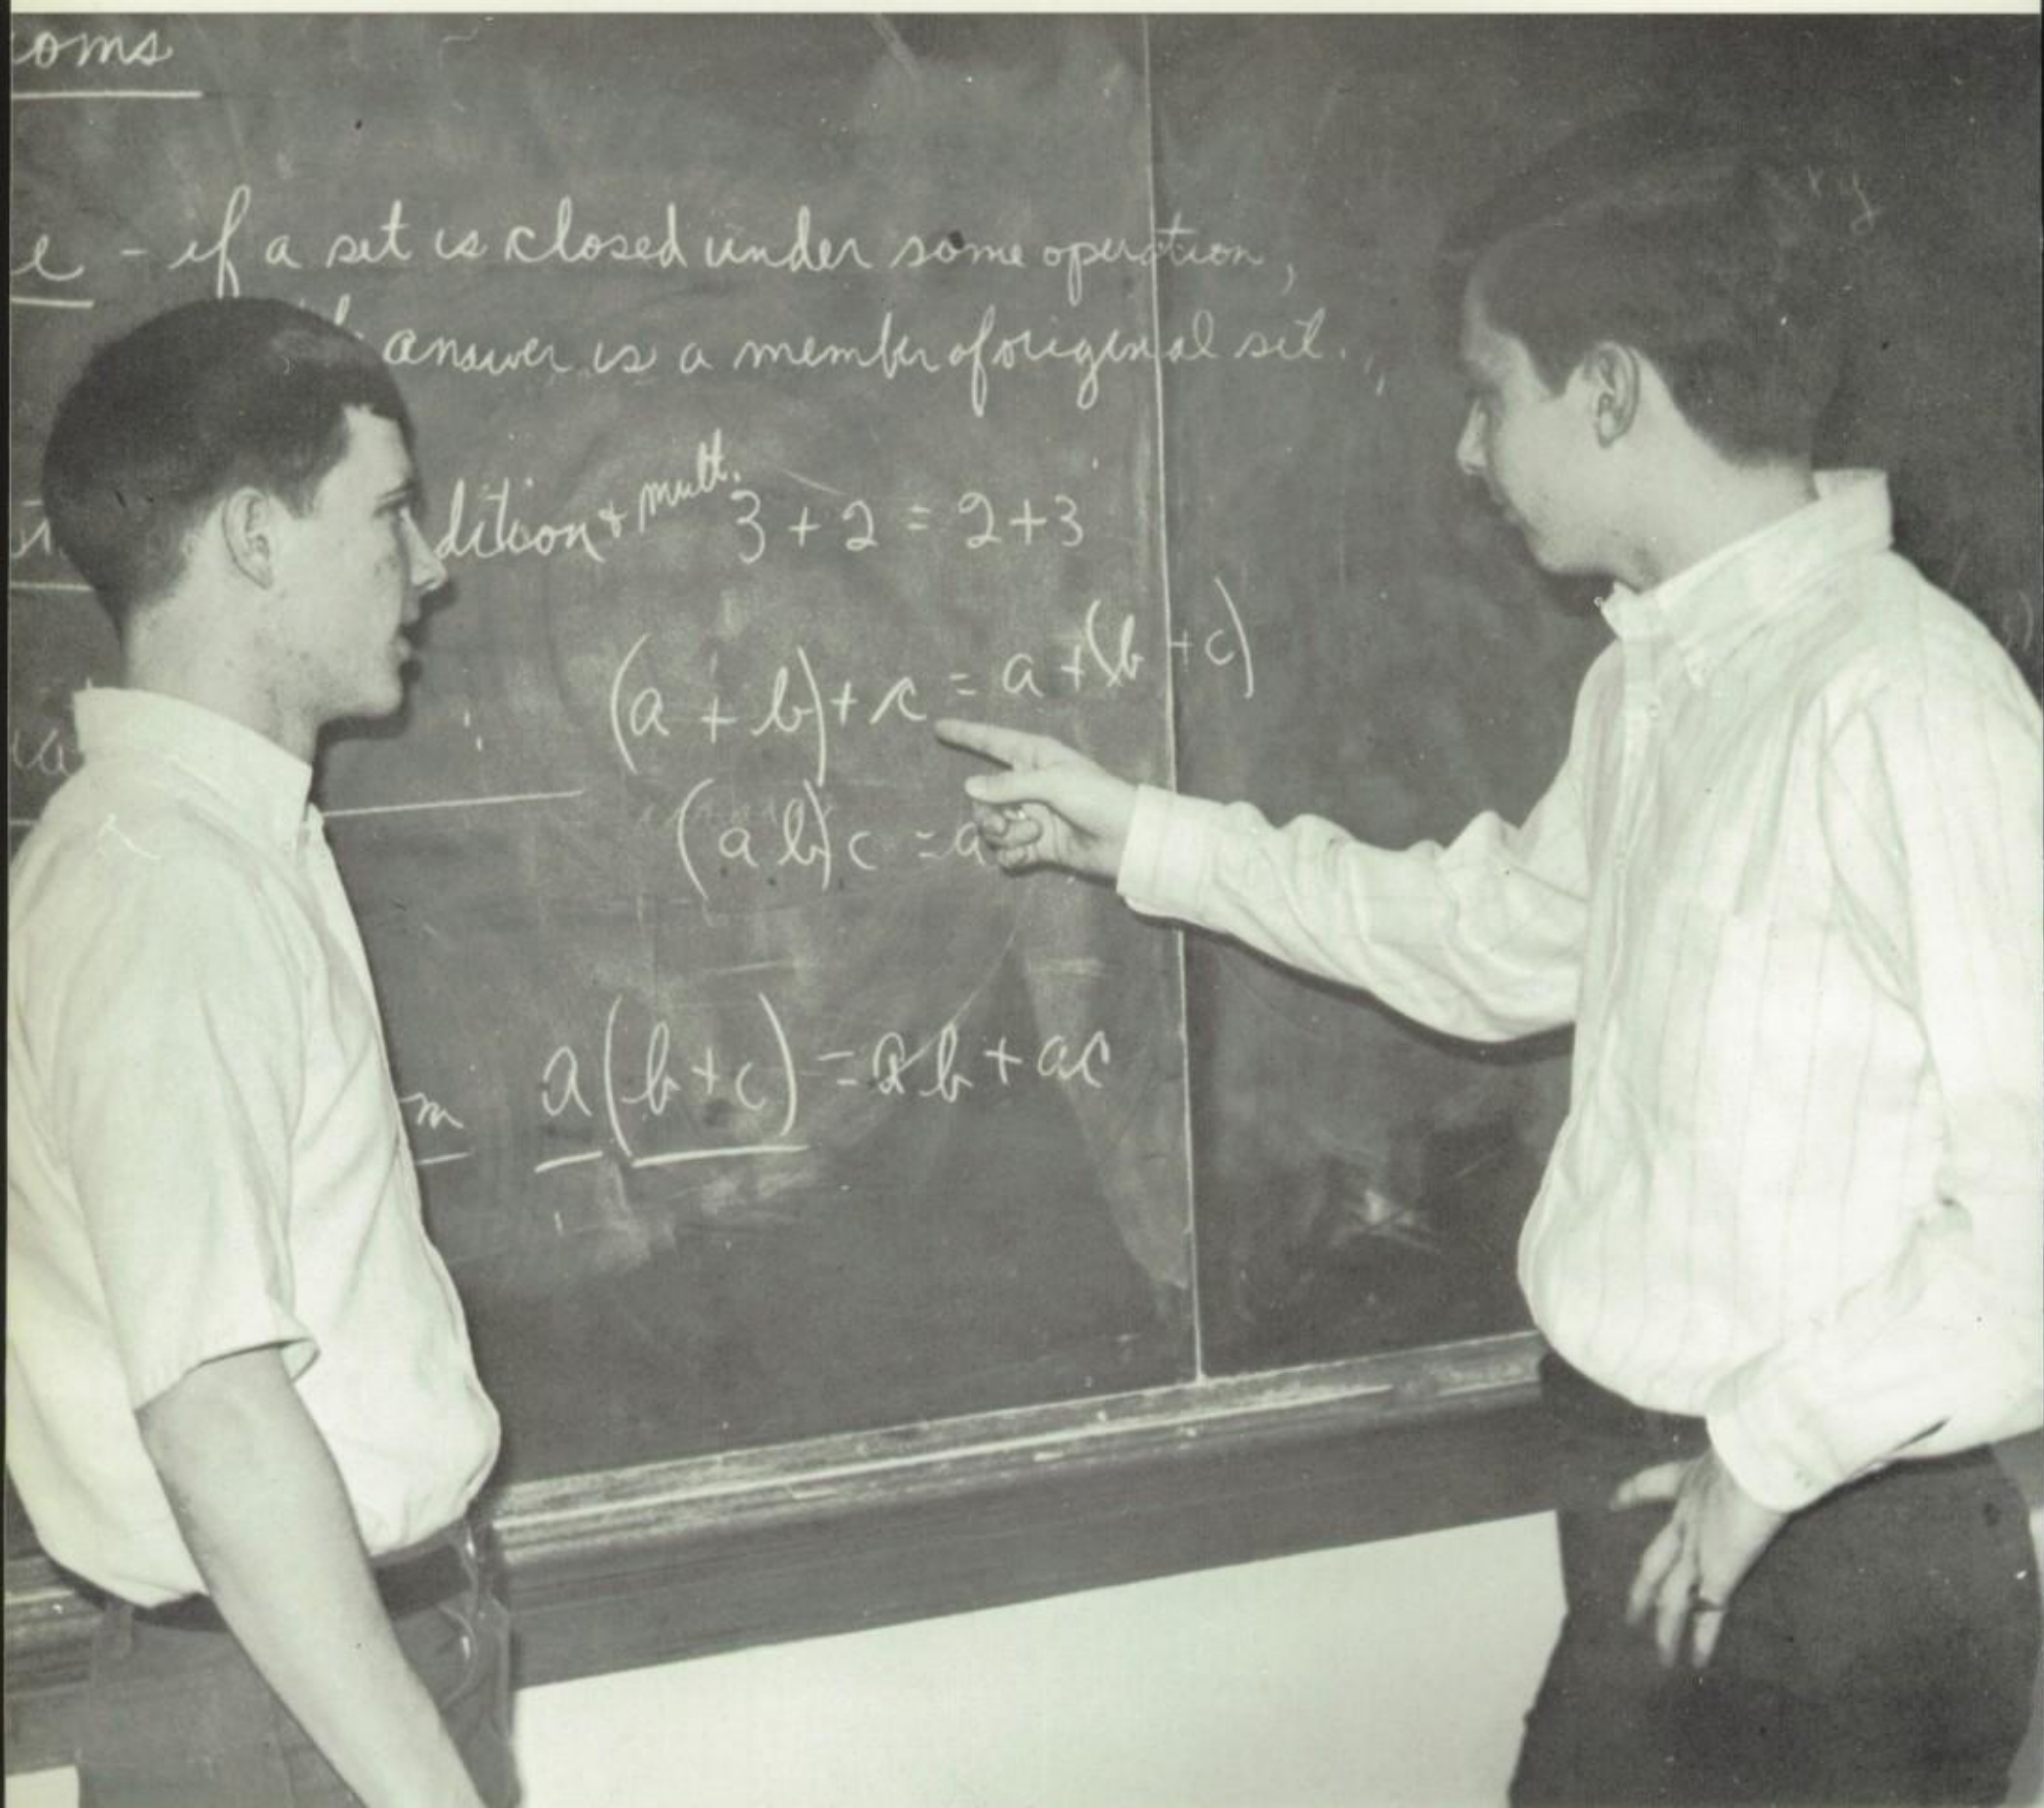

Joe O'Neil, Tina Yerian, and Jim Keefer contemplate Hemingway.

Mr. Odroneic coaches Claudia Walker in the use of the school camera when the Journalism students went outside to take pictures.

Mark King, Dick Bemiller, Debbie Lunn, Dorthea Constantikes, and Phil Lawrence participate in Junior Class Honors English Class Play.

Math Department Starts New Course and Curriculum Revisions

This year the Math Department under the chairmanship of Art Cassel introduced a new course and instituted curriculum changes.

The new course, Math Seminar, was taught by Chairman Art Cassel and was a one-semester deal. The course offered seniors a chance to brush up and reinforce old ideas about math or math problems.

Curriculum changes were being made with Mr. Cassel, Mr. Sleek, Mr. West and Mr. Schlosser on the committee. Their purpose was to improve the material and methods of the department.

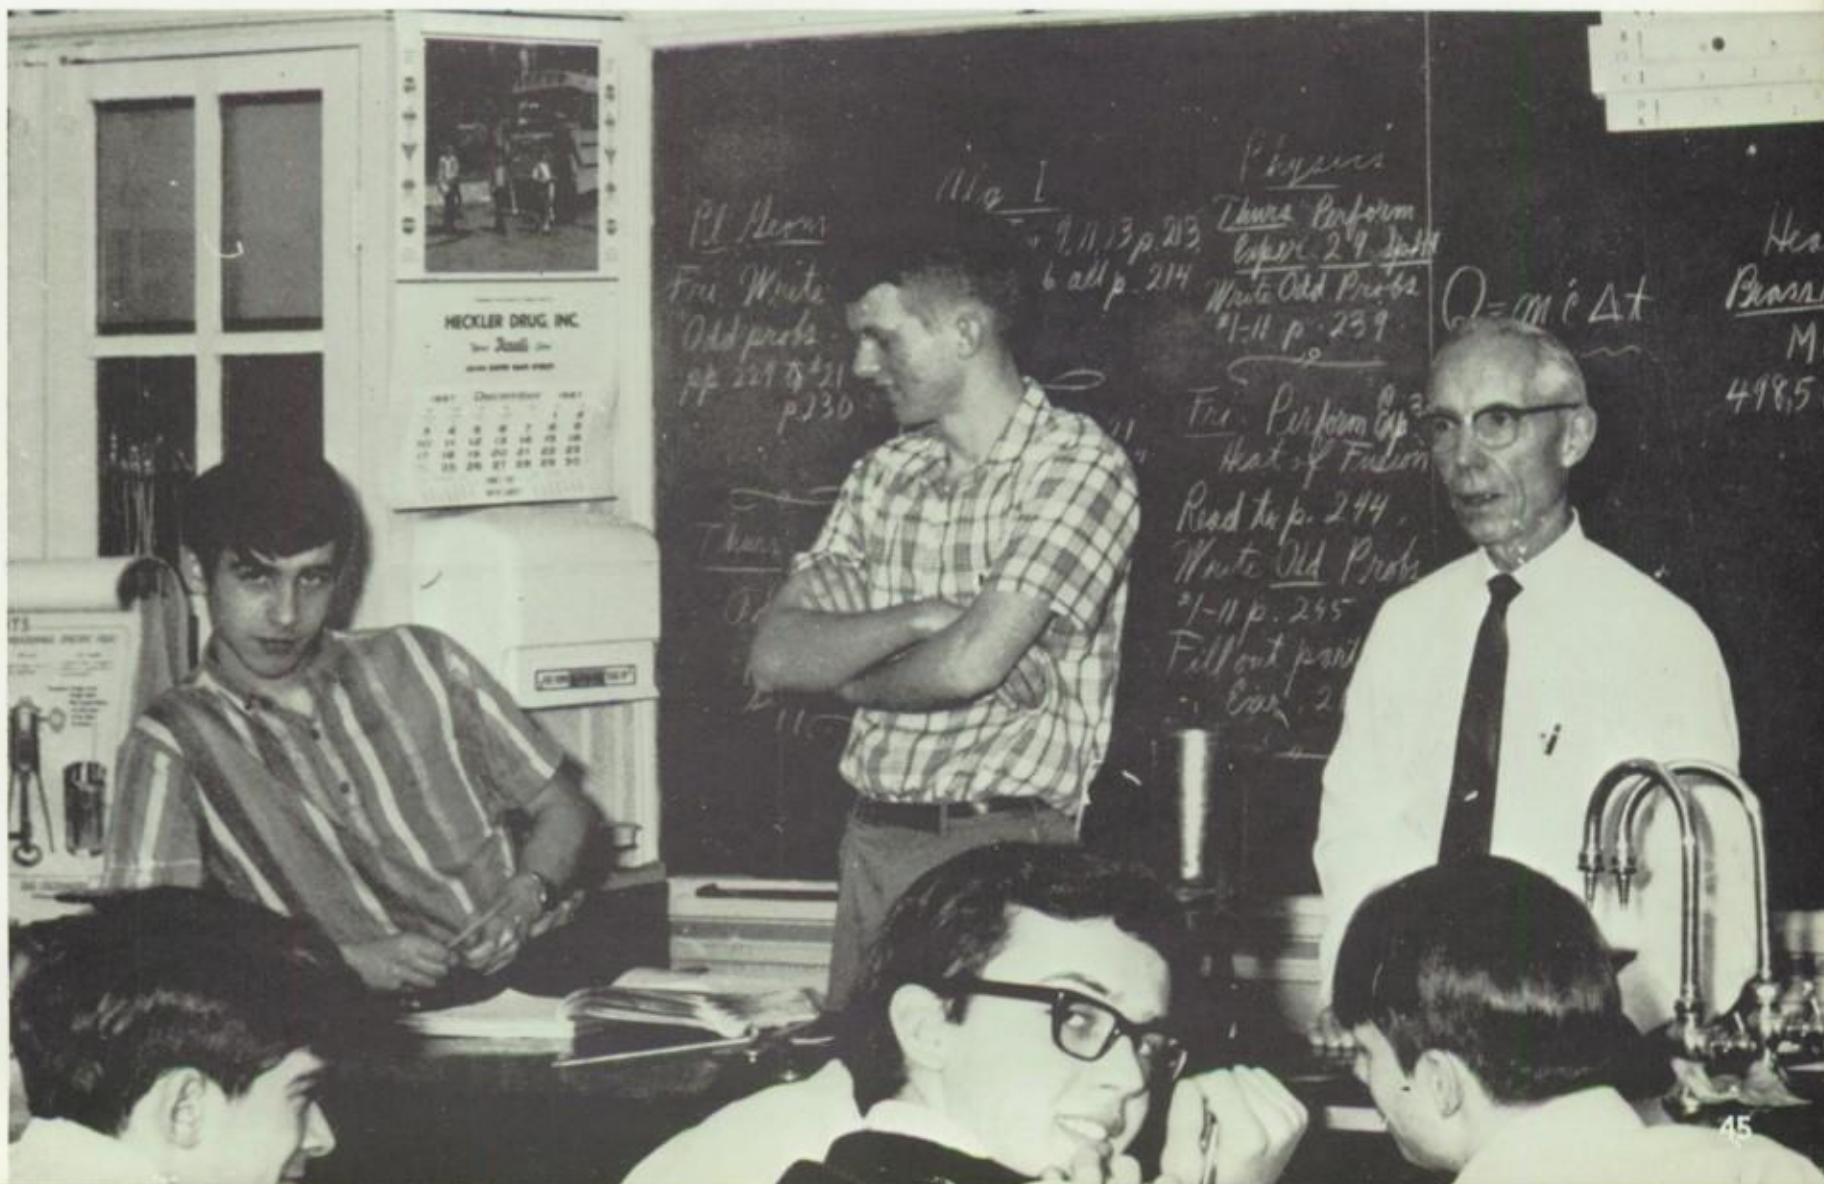

Science Reveals Unknowns

Chairman Jack Robeson stressed that the science department was spending time on the ideas of internal involvement within their subject area.

This year the department welcomed Mr. Nicholas Houston, biology, for his first year.

Mark Wise examines scientific project in biology lab.

Mr. West introduces Danny Ball and shy John Breithaupt as they are about to give a Physics report. Ken Keefer anticipates while John Wilson (bottom center) discovers the Forum Photographer.

Critical Thinking Stressed in Social Studies

Under the Chairmanship of big Jim Imel, the Social Studies Department rammed through another busy and inspiring year cajoling with critical analysis.

Team teaching was introduced on a practical level by the department with Mr. Imel, Mr. Odroneic and new Senior Social Studies teacher, Mrs. Henderson. The experiment showed the combined talents of three teachers on a group of students.

Mrs. Langhurst and Mr. Thompson tried a new approach of stressing modern American History by reversing history—starting their study from 1967, instead of the conventional chronological study of starting with the Age of Discovery.

The entire department had a new slant on critical thinking or the problem solving method.

With this in mind the department had other achievements including sending students to a mock political convention at Capital University, field trips, American Legion and U.N. Tests and awards, current events awards and sending students to Boys' and Girls' State.

Still more achievements include a plan to revise the curriculum, a grade nine social studies requirement, a study in motivation, meetings on teacher techniques, visual emphasis, sending delegates to professional meetings, and working with student teachers.

As usual, the gung-ho attitude of the department put emphasis on current contemporary problems, library investigation, outside speakers, panels, student reports and variance in classroom procedures.

Larry "Swampfox," Spetka and Phil Lawrence capture Red Coat Jeff Surlas and Colonial Deserter Pat Cass.

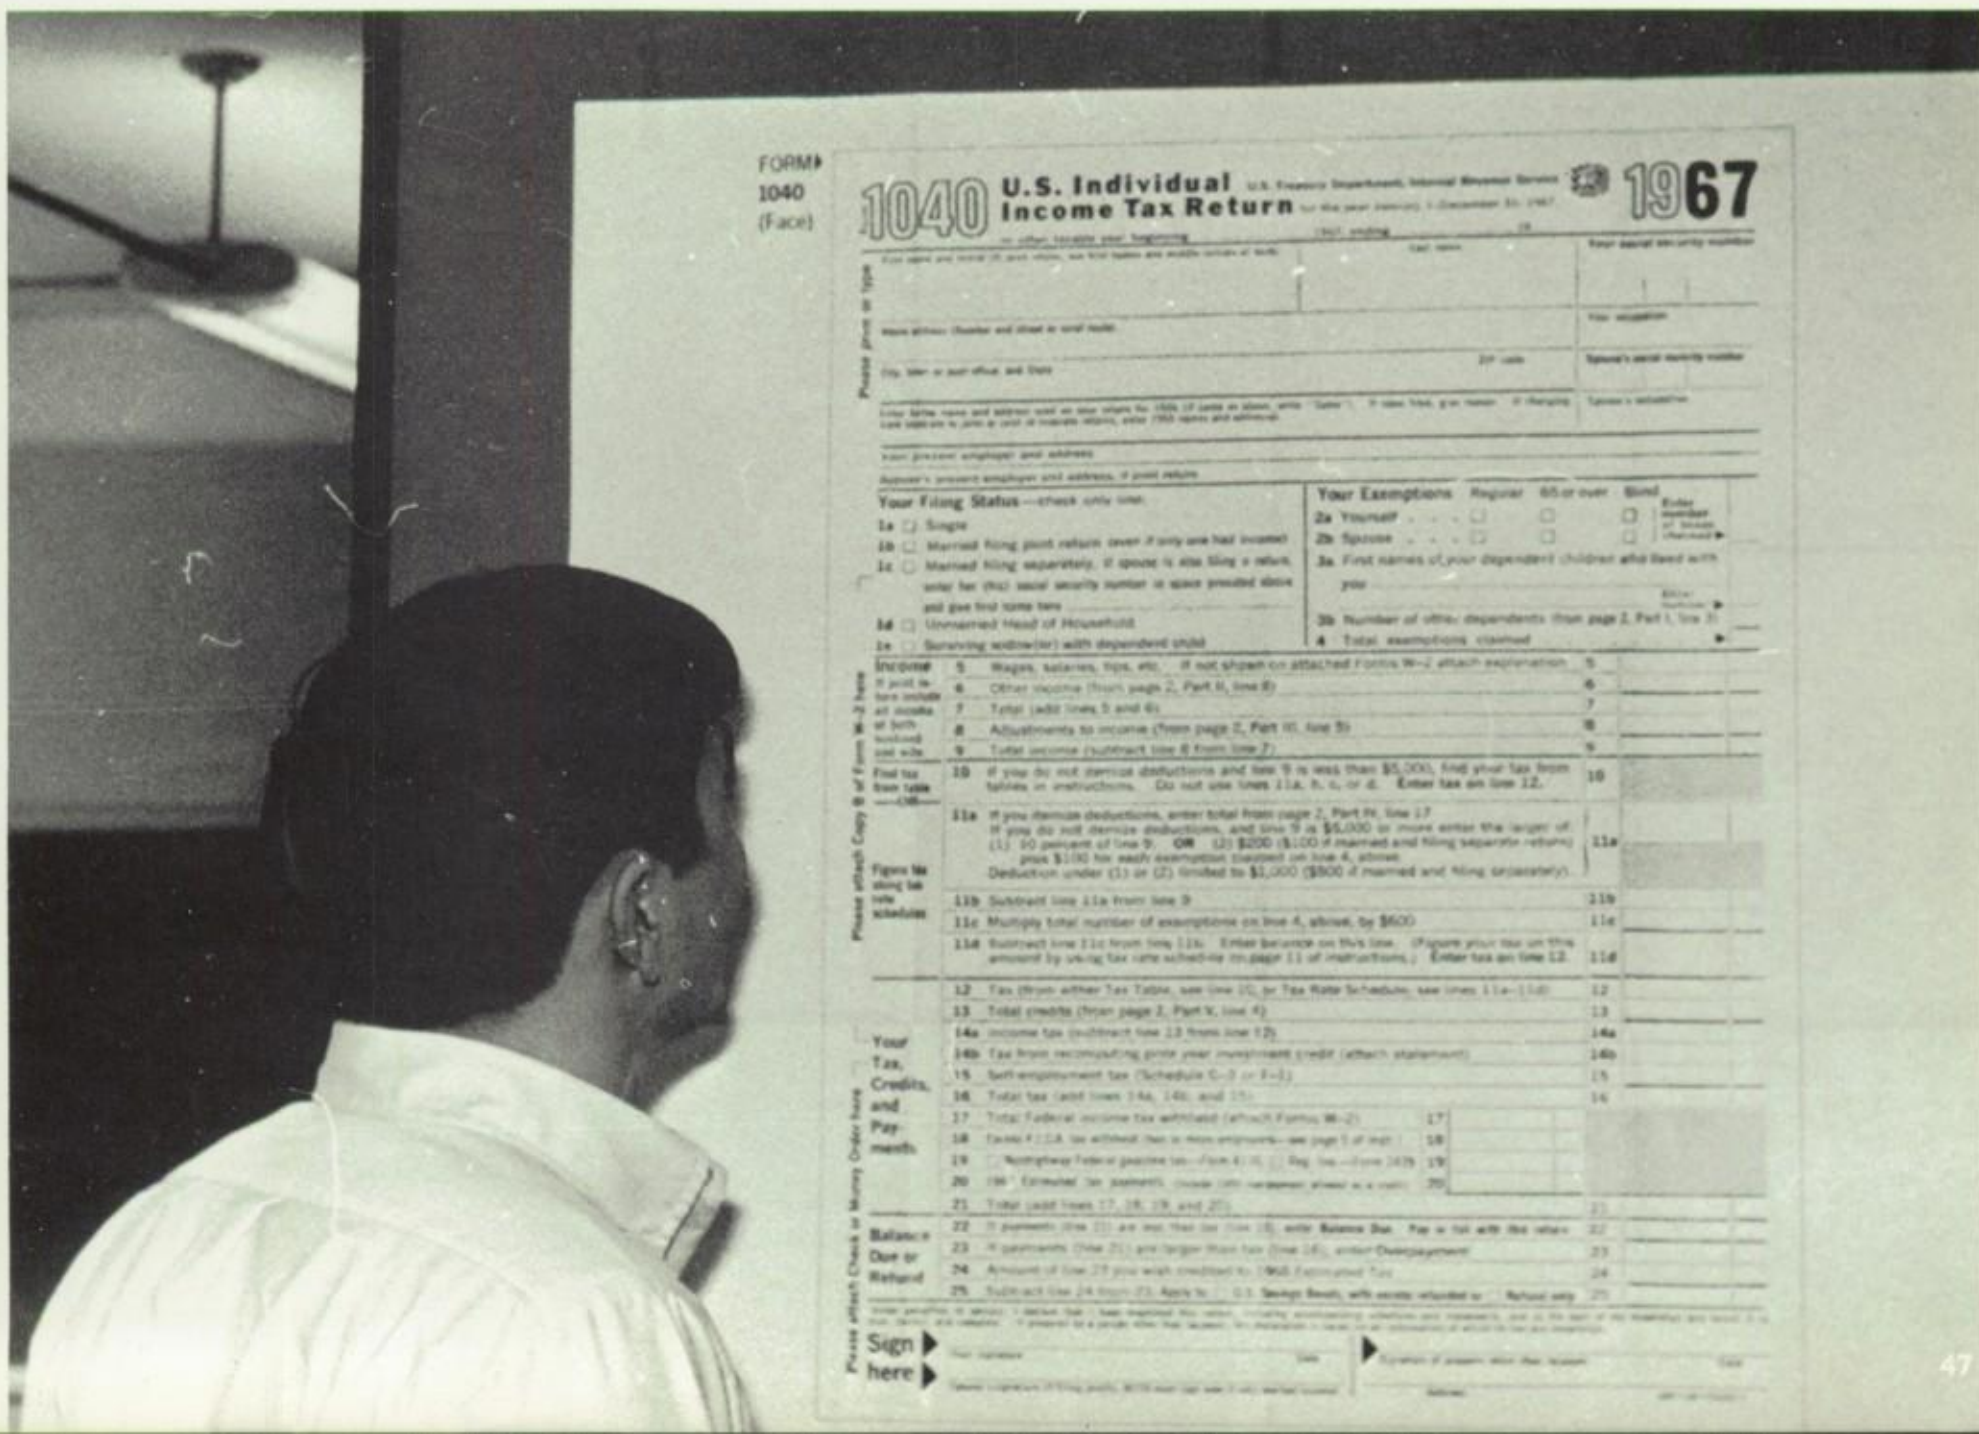

Mr. Robert Andorfer lectures to a social studies class on stocks and bonds. He is a local stock broker. The social studies class offers many outside speakers.

Mrs. Henderson lectures to the team teaching class. The department makes history by a practical application of team teaching.

With the aid of Mrs. Corbin's mammoth 1040 form, Danny Beaver checks over an income tax problem.

Languages Strives for International Understanding

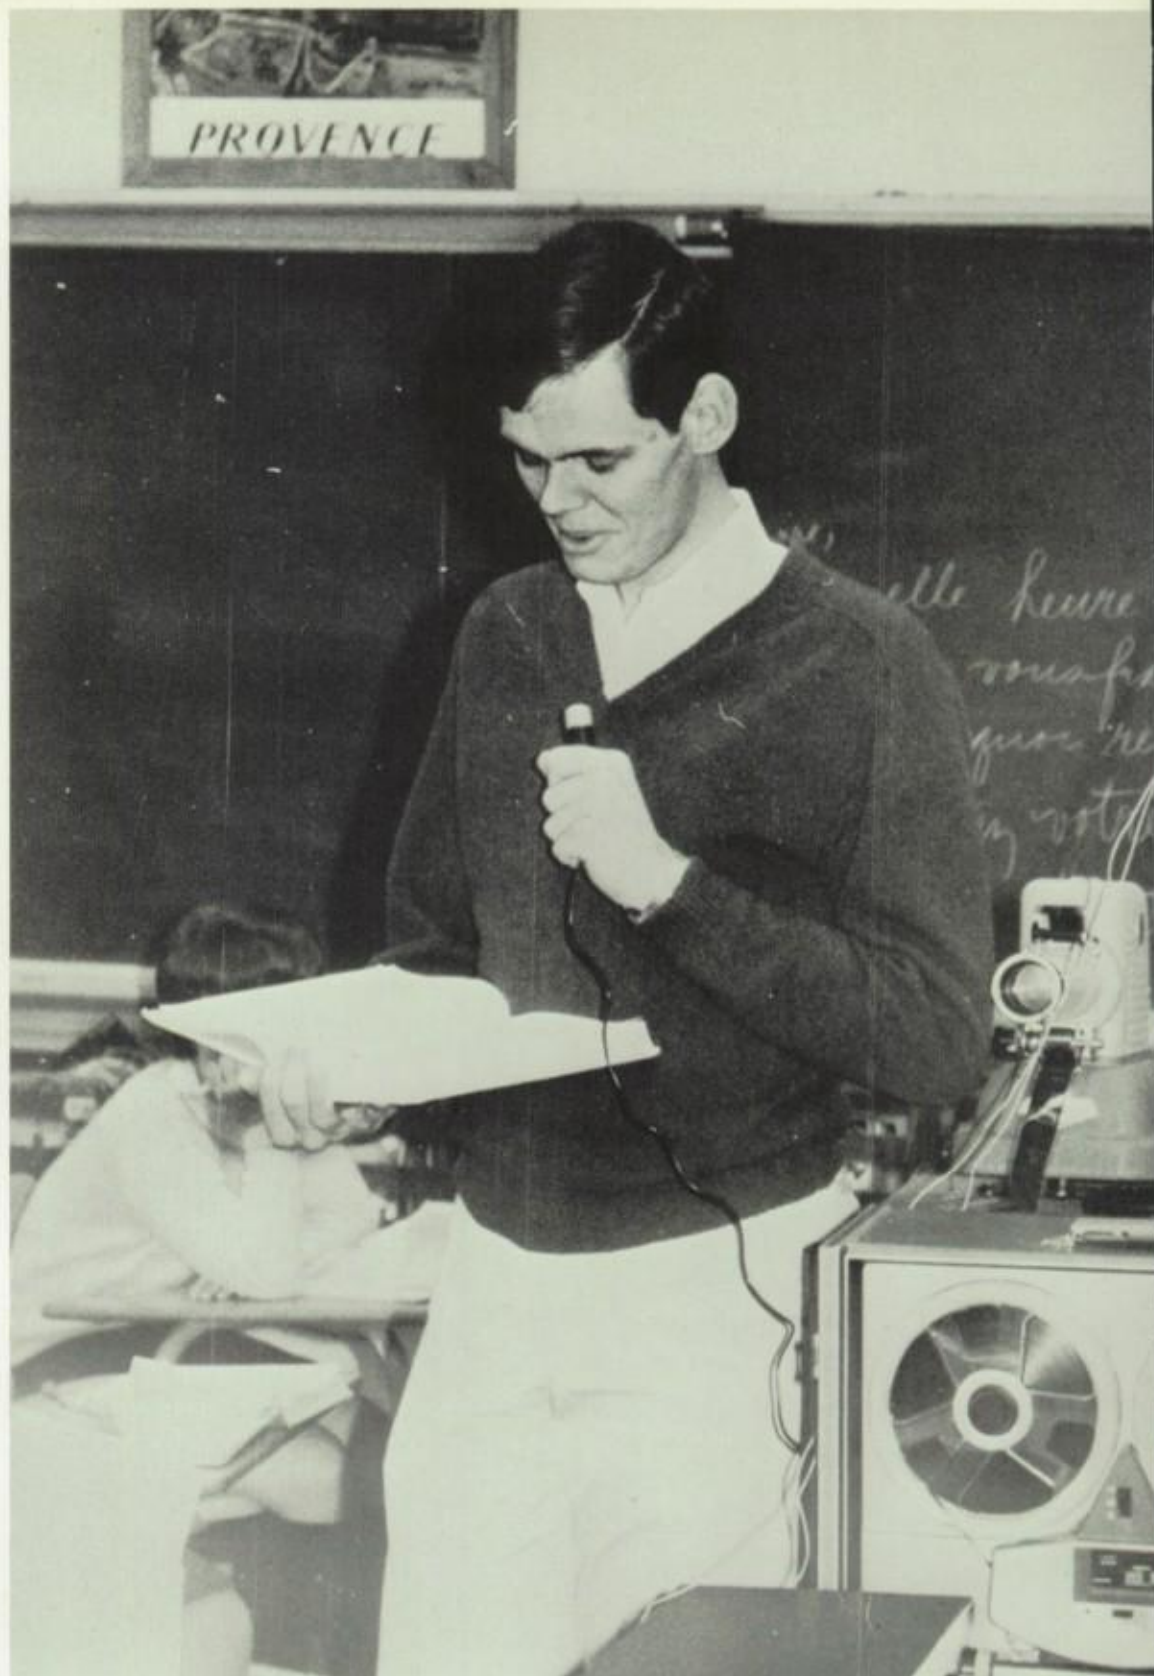

Under the leadership of Mrs. Montgomery, the language department worked towards the understanding of foreign languages and their lands. Tapes and records were useful in supplying the student with a more complete background.

In the more advanced classes, a cross-section of literature is studied.

This year the department welcomed Miss Bresnan, the new Spanish teacher.

Mrs. Sannar—Latin teacher.

Lance Coon tapes his melodious voice in French Class.

Phil Wolfe, Bob Wiley, Bill Culbertson, Mike Day, Dave Alberth munch at the annual Latin Club Blast.

Art Requires Discipline

Jeff Boucher helps Edda Carrico on an art project.

Barb Brinning puts finishing touches on papier-mache bust.

Tom Stacey and Linda Weller finish show case.

The main purpose of the Art Department is to guide the students in disciplines concerning art and its study.

In a truly academic atmosphere, the students learn the styles, skills and forms of art and touch lightly on art history.

To understand and appreciate the disciplines of art, students achieve wide practical experience with drawings, figure painting, oil painting, layouts, and other projects.

The Art Department, headed by Miss Sandra Shackett, also maintains the seasonal bulletin board in the front lobby.

Mrs. Betty Willmering shows Cheryl Mills and Merri Ellis how to flip their wigs.

Home Economics Edifies Techniques

Mrs. Betty Willmering shows Linda Mantor a wig catalogue.

Home Economics stress techniques that young women may use in their future life.

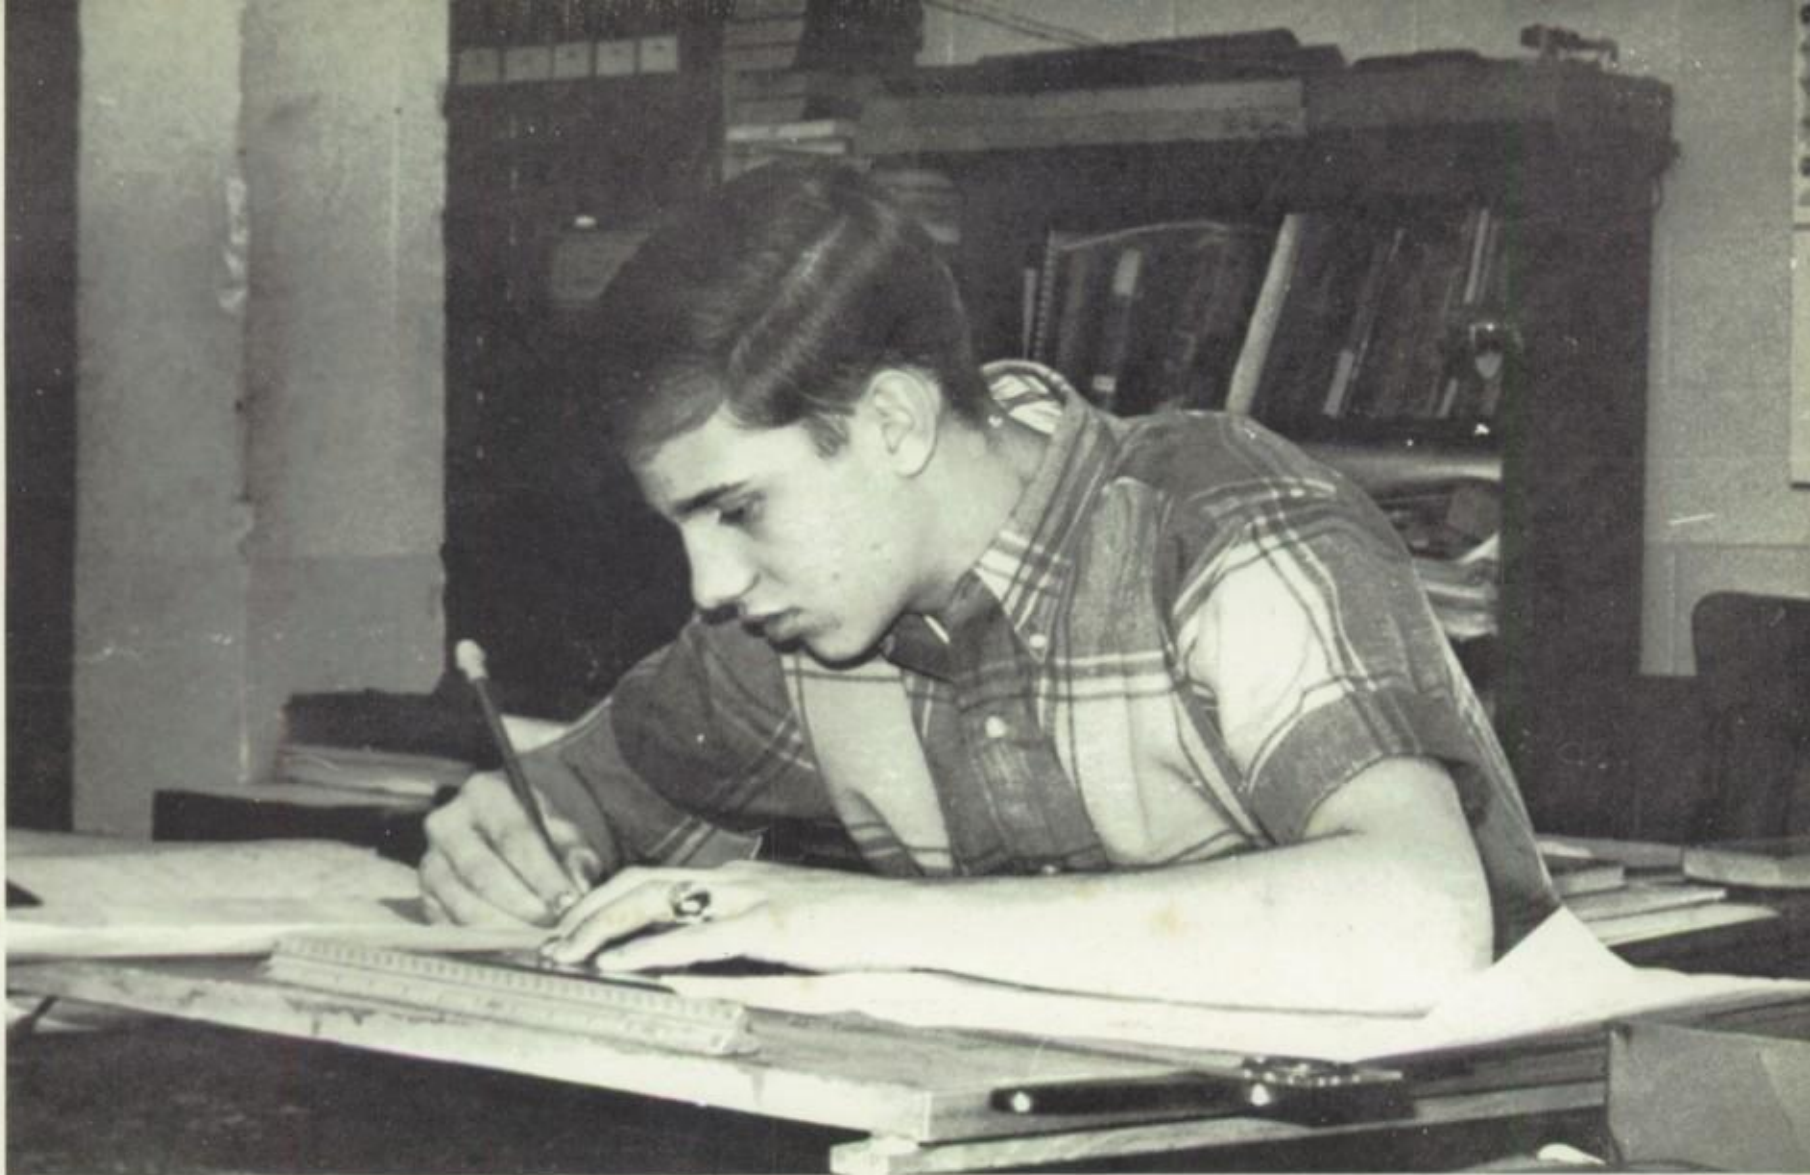

Offering a curriculum of child development, meal preparation, grooming, clothing, interior decorating, sewing, fashions, and related fields, a student can get a wholesome domestic background.

This year a new teacher, Mrs. Maria Solomon was added to the department.

Mrs. White is in charge of the vocational angle of Home Economics.

Ron Goodwin polishes up a layout in mechanical drawing class.

Industrial Arts Emphasizes Practical Skills and Crafts

Through basic and advanced courses in metal, woodworking, drawing, and auto mechanics, the Industrial Arts curriculum of the high school offers an experience for students in the practical skills and crafts of Industrial Arts.

Mr. Donald Morrison, department head, explained that the main aims of the department this year were a more concentrated effort in the advance courses on projects and steps towards revising the shop curriculum.

One overall aspect of the department in stressing practicability is to show repair work that may confront the student in everyday life.

Randy Davis is caught by the camera as he finishes a motor check in the Auto Mechanics Class.

Business Office Education Prepares Students for the Future

Ron Oliver works on accounting during the bank period.

Diane Shrimplin types manuscript.

This year the Commercial Department gave way to a unique idea known as Business Office Education.

B.O.E. has many of the old aspects of the commercial course; however, it also stresses a wider and more vivid background for the student engaged in commercial arts.

Trying to utilize the full potency of the department, the teachers interchanged with various classes. The rotating teachers had a chance to give fully of their talents and the students had a variety of routines and a wider range of material.

In its second year the Business Office Education Club stressed the idea of offering a close relationship between curriculum and career involvement.

Meeting the third period, the club schedules visits, like the one to Columbus, speakers, like Mr. Cassell on I.B.M. and activities, like the annual BOE banquet held every year.

At the banquet the group gave various awards for the outstanding business students of the year.

Health and Physical Education Develop Physical Virtues

This year Mr. Carl Meyer took over the health classes and re-vamped the program to include many A-V aids involving personal hygiene and development.

The sophomore physical education classes stressed the ideals of skill through endurance.

Mr. Tommy Thomas reviews intramural schedule.

"Merry Pranks of Tyll"

This year the All-School play was "The Merry Pranks of Tyll" as a Children's Theatre project.

The play had three performances at the Memorial Building and was attended by 600 plus kiddoes of the school district.

Besides the cast listed below, those helping in production were Carol Frye, Rosy DeVore, John Smith, Brad Morrow, Fred Lewis, Jeff Elson, Marty Kofod, Debbie Boucher.

Piazzе Crowned Homecoming Queen

HOMECOMING—1967

Queen Deney Piazzе reigned over the 1967 Homecoming festivities under the theme of "Autumn Leaves."

A cheerleader and active participant in many school organizations, the Queen has much school spirit. Deney belongs to Pep Club, Tri-Hi-Y, the school choir, and the Forum Staff. She has been a varsity cheerleader for the last three years and was a reserve her freshman year. Deney was a junior attendant to the Forum and Homecoming Queens last year. She has also been treasurer of both her junior and senior classes.

The football players elected the Queen and her court. The senior attendants were Belinda Baltzell, escorted by Paul Highnam; and Alita Mazza, escorted by Ron Purdy. Alita has been on Student Council and was a junior attendant for the Forum Queen. Belinda is an honor student, vice-president of the student council, a varsity cheerleader, and was a junior attendant. Both girls were in Tri-Hi-Y and Pep Club.

The junior attendants were Carolyn Hollinger escorted by Tom Burke, and Patty Boucher, escorted by Mike Grubaugh. Carolyn has been a varsity cheerleader for two years and a member of the Pep-Club and Tri-Hi-Y. Patty was vice-president of the Tri-Hi-Y and was very active in the Pep Club, School choir, and Student Council.

Deney Piazze Elected Forum Queen

Deney Piazze was the 1968 Forum Show Queen.

Rarely does the honor of Forum Queen and Homecoming Queen go to a single student, but Deney accomplished the feat.

Deney was elected Queen by ballots with every junior and senior voting. This ranks higher than the Homecoming Queen which only has football players voting.

Being the youngest of three children, Deney plans to enter Ashland College in the fall. Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Maria Solomon, Deney's sister, is an Ashland graduate. Brother Tom is attending West Point. Her father Thomas Piazze is an engineer with the Continental Can Corporation.

Since she is very active, her activities show a wide range. She has been a cheerleader for four years, class treasurer both her junior and senior years, a junior attendant at last year's Forum Show as well as Homecoming attendant, and an ardent member of Pep Club, choir, Tri-Hi-Y and the Forum Staff.

Her escort for the show was Senior Dave Warner.

Student Council Shows "Esprit de Corps"

This year the Student Council, under the leadership of President Rhonda Rutherford, appeared to find new life as they broadened their activity into many new areas.

New projects undertaken were a computer dance, Christmas programs, and a "flower power" Carnation Day.

Student Council also kept reign over their usual duties concerning Homecoming, dances, assemblies, and Sophomore Orientation Day.

The advisor for the council is Mr. Robert Thomson.

Vice President, Bin Baltzell, offers a suggestion on Student Council project.

This year the Pep Club displayed the noise and spirit to show our teams that fans cared and to show opponents that there was an undying backing in Mount Vernon High School.

The club sponsored pep trips to away games and was always a significant factor in cheering at thuses.

The clubs patient advisor this year was Mr. Ronald Lucas. Officers this year were President Joe Harding, Vice President Lyle Kreps, Treasurer Les King, and Secretary Diane Shrimplin.

Debate Team Sounds Off

The Debate team had a veteran appearance this year with the return of experienced debaters Dwight Decker, Rick Bernard and Sue Steinmetz.

Mr. Jerry Simpson, when not bogged down by dramatics responsibilities, was the advisor for the team.

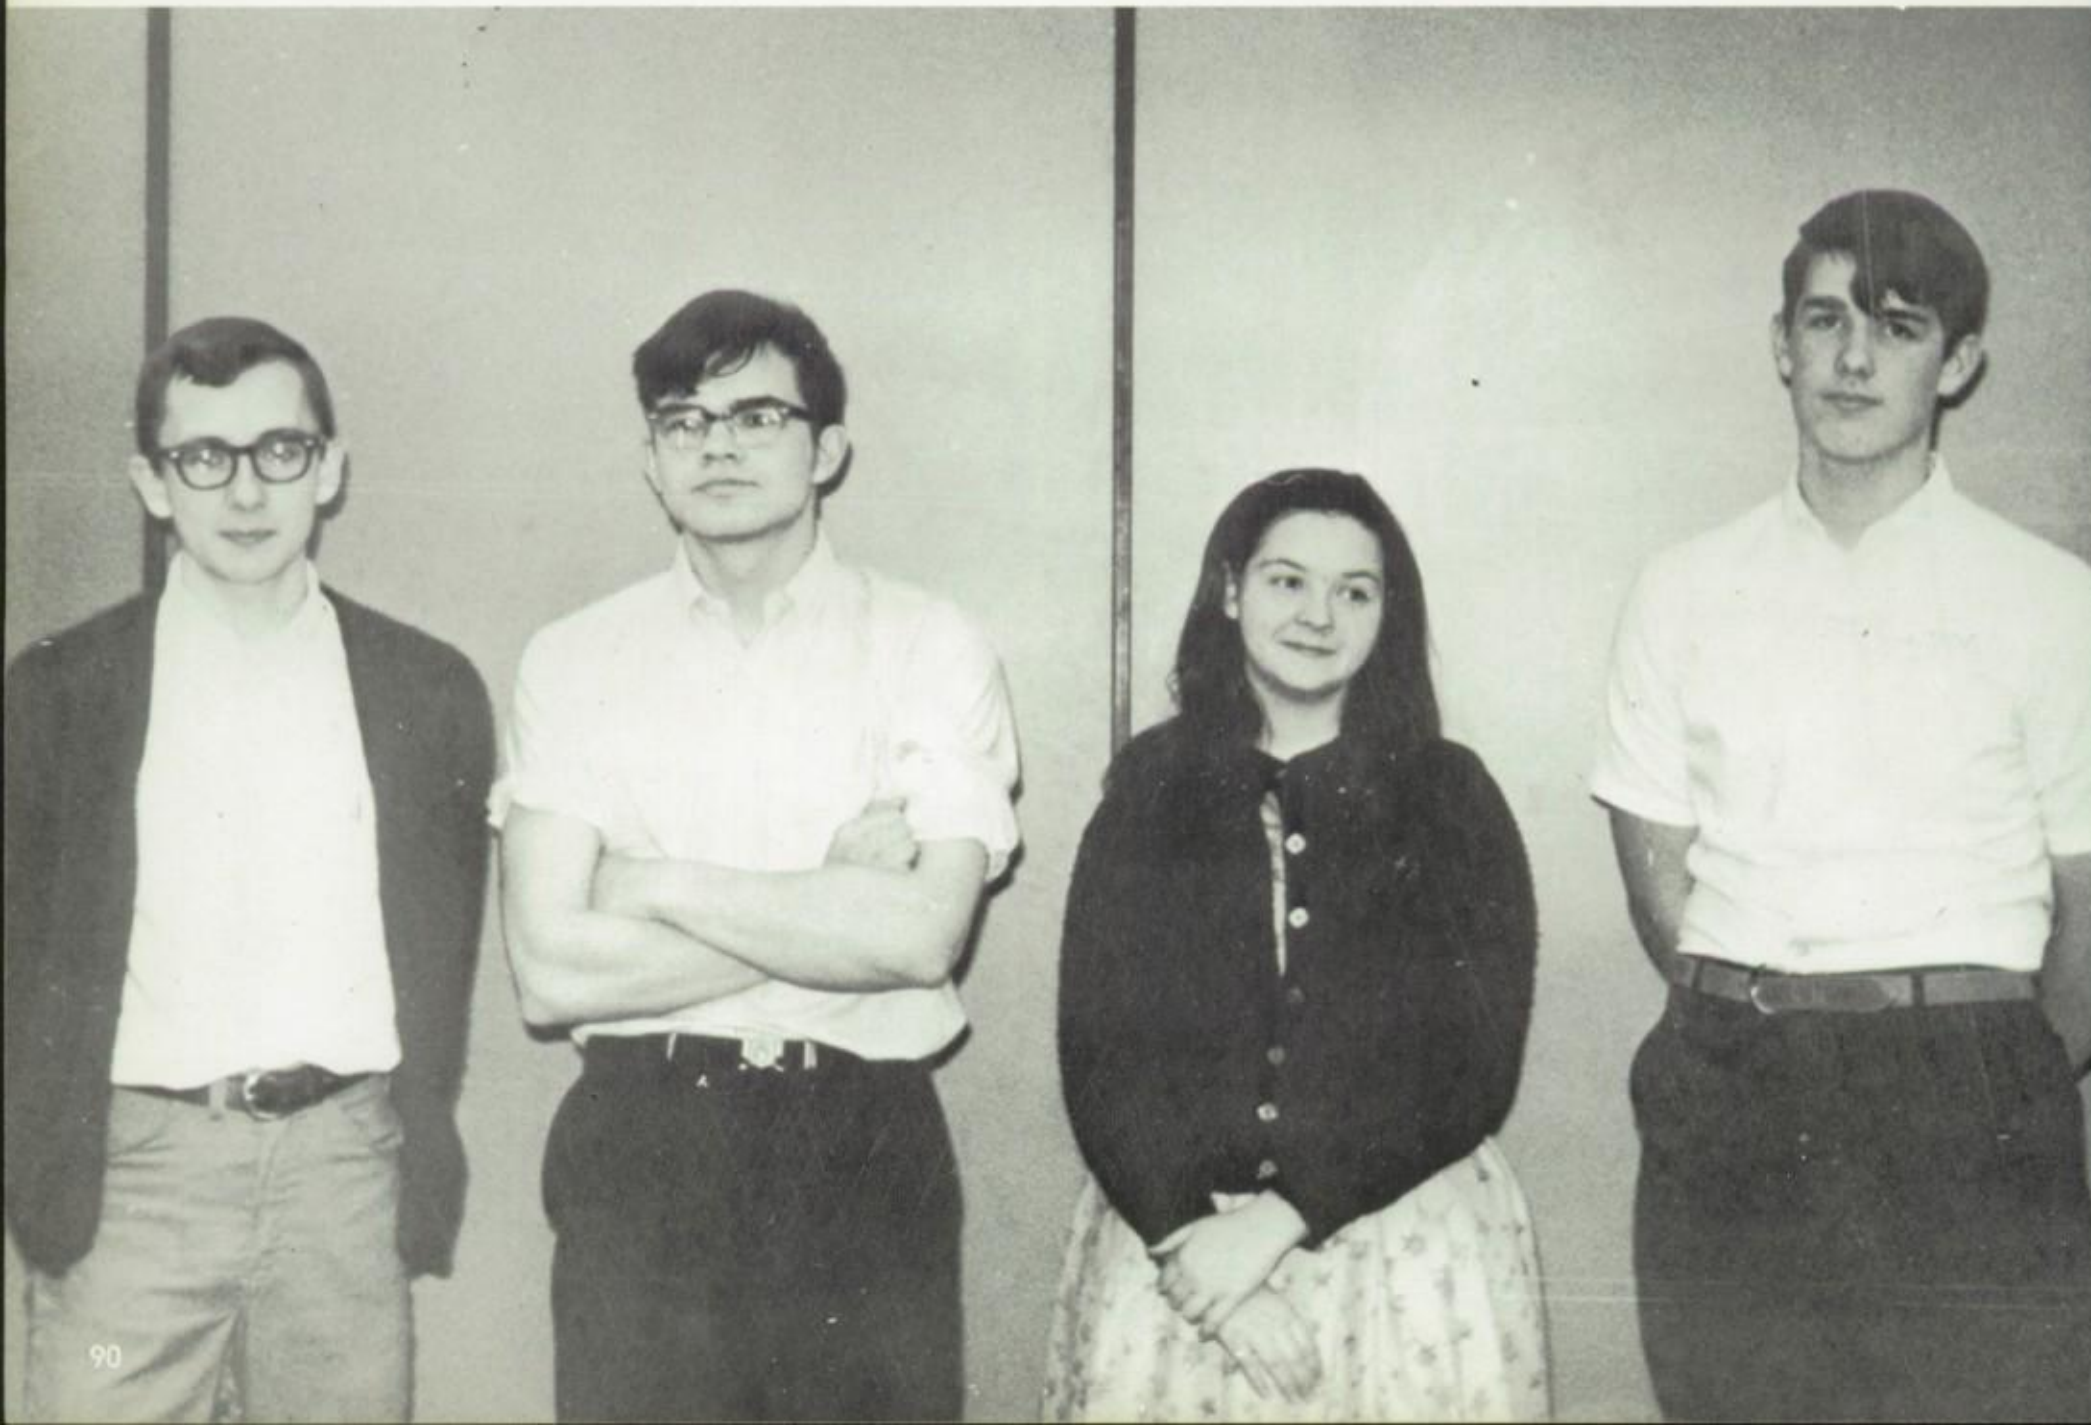

In the future, the team hopes to add more members and enlarge their format.

Since this was only the second year for the activity, much can be accomplished in the future.

Mr. Simpson searches for material for his team.

The starting line-up for the debate squad—Bill Rea, Dwight Decker, Sue Steinmetz, Rick Bernard.

Vedette Displays Literary Skills and Styles

Seated: Editor; Mary Michael, Steve Roeder.

Vedette, our school's literary magazine, is published each spring showing the literary styles and skills of the students.

Manuscripts are collected from both the staff and non-staff people with cash rewards going to the best selections by non-staff writers.

Besides manuscripts, photography and art work submissions are encouraged.

Most of the work for the compiling of Vedette was completed because students sacrificed time during the noon hour and after school.

To defray the cost of production, Vedette was helped by patrons and the Vedette Bookstore—which carried a wide variety of paperback books and school supplies.

Seated: Margaret Michael, Robina Magee.

Row 1 Standing: Debbie Lunn, Pam Trien, Sue Memdenhall, Marsha Wurtz.

Row 2 Standing: Ian Watson, Lavina Wright, Steve Yerien, Steve Fulleman.

Key Club Increases Action

Last year the Key Club was limited in its program because it was being re-organized.

This year they expanded their program to include the chains on the walk entering the school and unique speakers or programs at their monthly meetings.

Larry Gardner, advisor, arranged a basketball game with the local Kiwanis Club, as an example of the action taking place at meetings.

Band Encourages School Spirit

This year the Marching Band was one of the hardest working in recent years working hard to boost school spirit at football games and in parades.

Their shows consisted of intricate drills and formations.

Activities of the band besides football games and local parades were two trips to Ohio State University, the annual band camp and fund raising events in conjunction with the energetic Band Boosters.

The Future Homemakers of America under the advisorship of the Home Economics Department held monthly meetings September through May.

At the meetings general business was discussed and various programs and projects presented.

Normally, the monthly meetings were etched around some theme. Examples were the Halloween Party at Camp Anderson and the yearly Christmas Kiddie Party in December.

The club was also involved in service projects and had guest speakers stressing the benefits and ramifications of the Home Economics area.

Future Farmers of America Develops the Rural Leaders of the Future

The Future Farmers of America stress for development of the future leaders of the valuable rural scene with a program of debate, speaking, crop producers, and other items making an unusual blend of personal and farm development.

Throughout the year the organization held special programs dealing with farming and the club entered competition with many FFA's of their district.

One highlight of the year was the annual FFA Banquet held February 20.

At the banquet parents were acquainted with the procedures of FFA and they listened to the student president of the state FFA.

This year the organization honored Paula Headings as FFA Queen. She reigned over the annual banquet.

Cheerleaders Blend Spirit With Vigor

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

This year the cheerleaders helped the resurgence of school spirit with their leading of cheers and never—say—defeat—attitude about our athletic teams.

Both the varsity and reserve teams displayed spirit, vigor, agility, and extreme optimism whether they appeared at an athletic event or a thuse.

This year the new tutor for the yelpers was Mrs. Sheri Langhurst.

GAA Revitalizes Program

Judy Auskings

This year the GAA brought into the lime-light a new event, powder puff football, that is destined to grow in popularity. The Junior girls trounced a team of Senior girls 30-2. This game will be played annually between the two classes.

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Betty Corbin, was more active this year than in previous years since 1963. The enthusiastic group of girls had many money making projects throughout the year plus a community service project at Christmas. The year was topped off with an awards picnic for all of the members.

The record of the varsity volleyball team was 7-1. The girls also played other schools in basketball. A new sport, bowling, was introduced in place of softball to allow the girls to compete among themselves.

Seniors

President Dave Warner

Dave Warner serving as Senior Class President was also active as Editor of the Forum, and participated in Pep Club, Student Council and activities at the Y.M.C.A.

He is enthusiastic about swimming. He also holds the state AAU record for the breaststroke.

Leaders of the Senior Class

Dave Warner guarding people going off the high.

Secretary Vickie McCoy

Vickie McCoy served the class of 1968 as secretary. Vickie is active around school as an office helper and as a lab assistant to Mr. Nicholai Houston in biology.

Vickie's other activities include Pep Club and Publications.

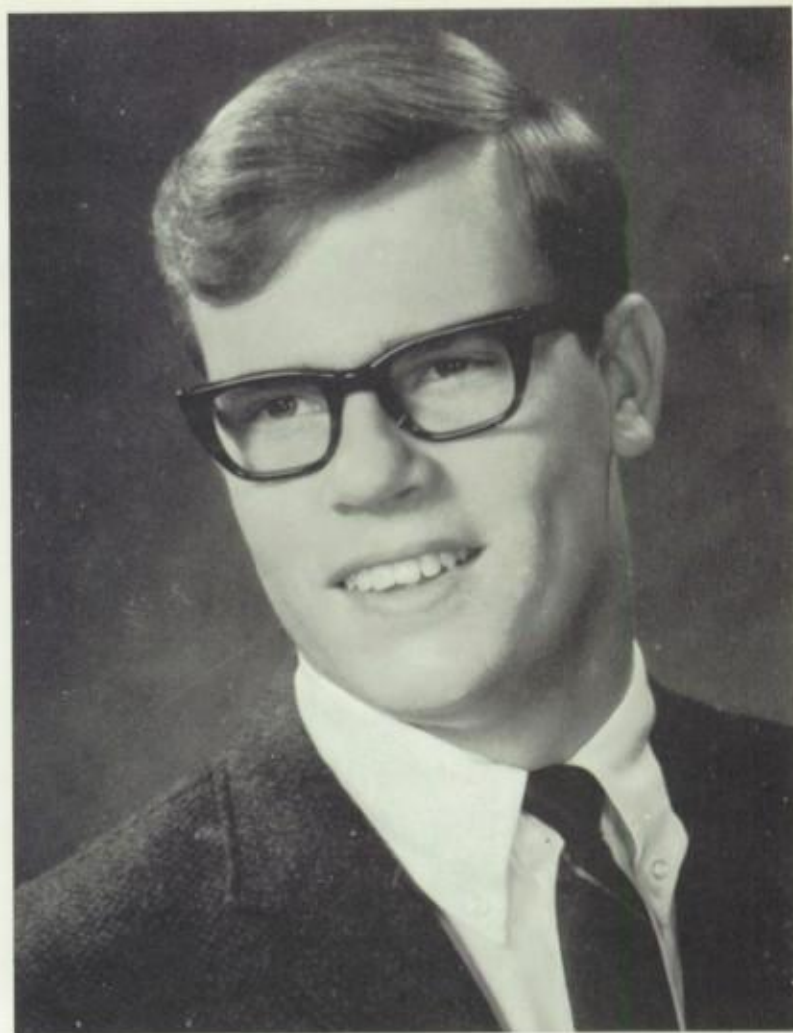

The Senior Class accomplished varied achievements this year.

Foremost among objectives was to reduce the cost of the Senior Prom. To achieve this goal the seniors sold scissors, had bake sales, and held dances. One of the dances was a innovation known as a "Slop Hop" where students wore the grubbiest outfits possible.

The class as a unit showed most enthusiasm at school affairs, and it was usually the dominating class in attendance. This was evidence by the many times the seniors won competition cheers.

Deeney was quite active as a cheerleader. She is also active as a cheerleader. She is also active in Pep Club, Publications, and Choir. She was also our Homecoming Queen this year.

Treasurer Deeney Piazze

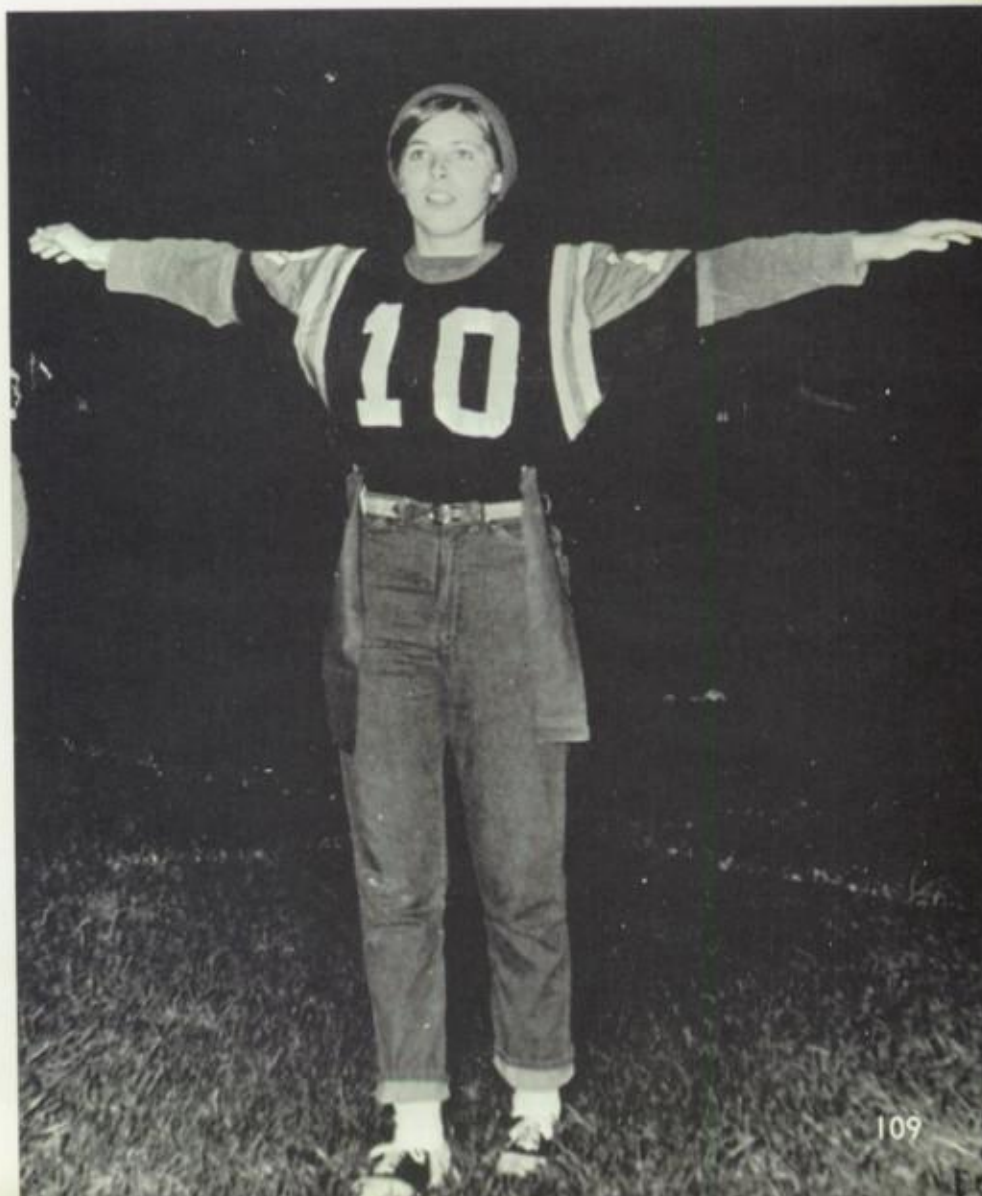

Vice-President Mike Grubaugh

Holding the position of Vice-President of the Class of 1968 is Mike Grubaugh.

Mike has been best known for his athletic prowess as center and captain of the football team and receiving honorable mention on the all state team.

The 1967 Fighting Yellow Jackets with a mid-season surge finished the campaign with a 4-4-1 record.

At the start of the season, only six lettermen returned, but thirty-two men lettered before the season was over. Sixteen were seniors, so the Jackets will have sixteen back for next year's initial competition in the Ohio Capital Conference.

Highlights of the first season under new head coach Carl Meyer were the opening victory against Willard and a 32-12 Homecoming conquest of Delaware Hayes.

Other games included a 7-0 victory over Worthington and a frustrating 22-14 loss to Manfield Madison. Also on the schedule were losses to Bexley, Ashland, and state ranked Upper Arlington.

The October 24 comeback victory against Manfield Malabar, when the Jackets were down 14-0 at halftime, exhibited the great desire and character of this year's Jackets.

Reserves Enjoy Near-Perfect Campaign

Head coach Jack Sleek yelled and steered the Junior Jackets into an undefeated season of six wins and one tie.

The Reserves started the season by pulling out a 14-12 victory over Delaware.

Following Delaware, Coshocton, West Holmes, Newark, Mansfield Madison, and Bexley served the Jacket conquests.

The last game of the season proved Ashland to be the Jackets equal as the two teams battled to 6-6 tie.

An innovation was night home games for the Reserves against Newark and Ashland.

Cross Country Strides Through Second Season

Highlights of last season were two fourth place finishes in both the Newark and Worthington Relays and a one point victory over Newark in a dual meet.

The Revannaugh twins, Lance and Vance, proved to be the nucleus of this year's squad.

This year's team strode through their second campaign under the leadership of coach Houston Schlosser.

Swim Team Launches First Season

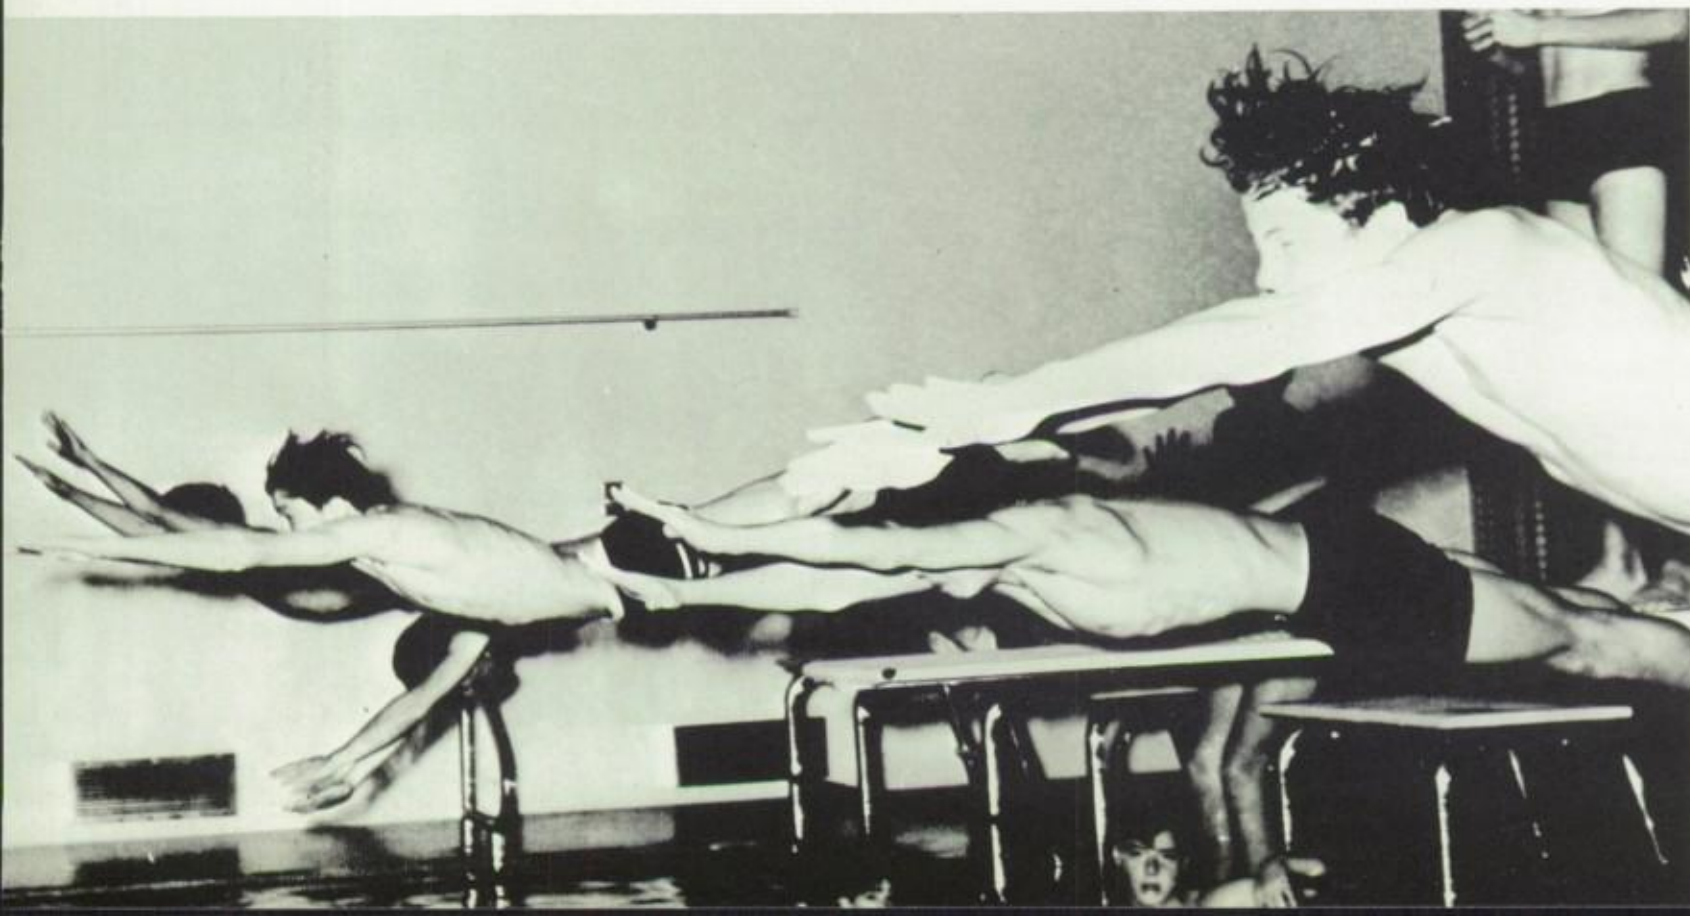

Swimming began its first year as a sport at Mount Vernon High School. Mr. William Noce, junior high school science teacher, was the coach.

Because of the late starting date and lack of interest, Coach Noce plans to have more swimmers try-out for next year's team.

The swimmers sacrificed their time to practice from 7-7:55 a.m. each morning at the local Y.M.C.A.

Paul Highnam pumps in two points.

With a 5-5 conference record, the 1967-68 basketball squad clinched third place in the Buckeye Athletic Conference behind Worthington and Bexley and ahead of Grandview, Delaware and Urbana.

This year the Jackets featured an attack centering around guard Paul Highnam, forward Dave Cornwell and center Hershel Thomas. Highnam was the conference leading scorer with 331 points. He made the conference first team with Cornwell making the second.

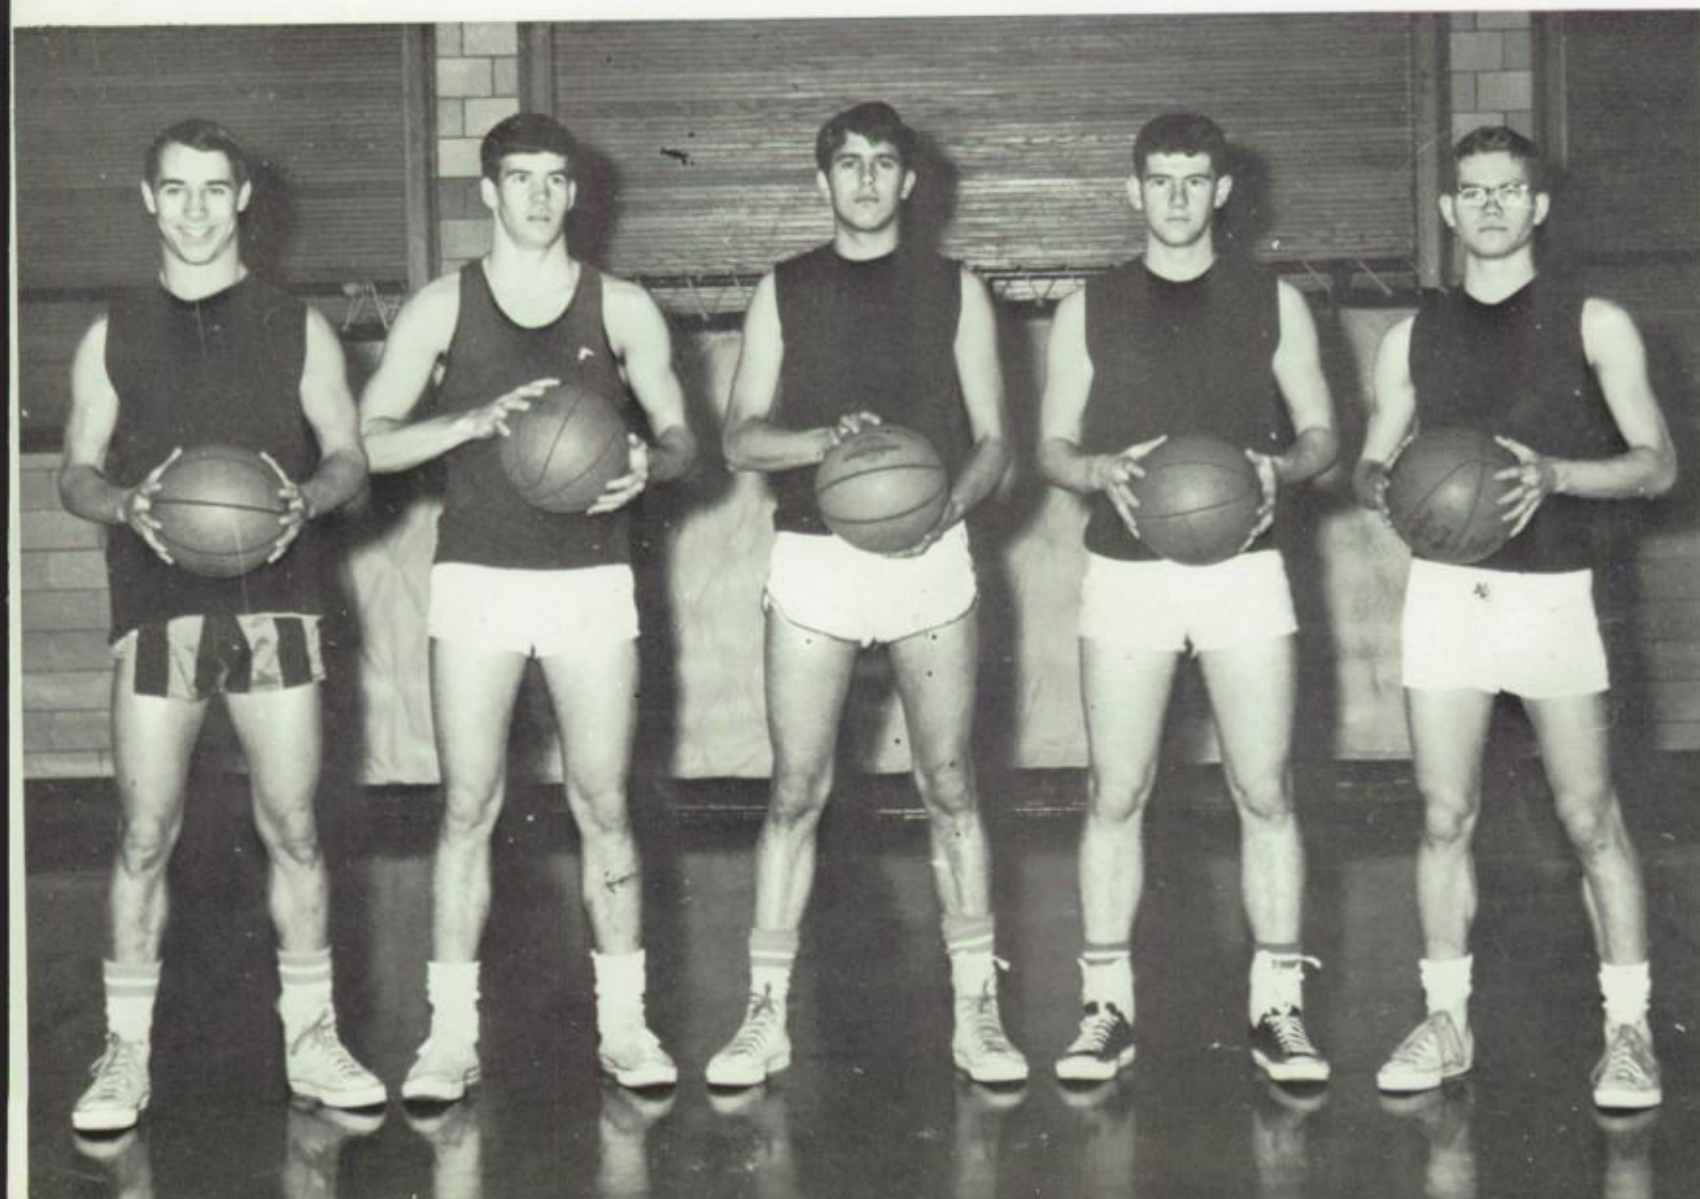

Guard Dave Warrick and fancy forward Jim Balsley, the only junior starter, rounded out the starting quintet.

Bench help came from Seniors Erritt Coon, Chuck Doup, and juniors Bill Pursel, Tom Burke, Bob Harrison and Tom Holdford.

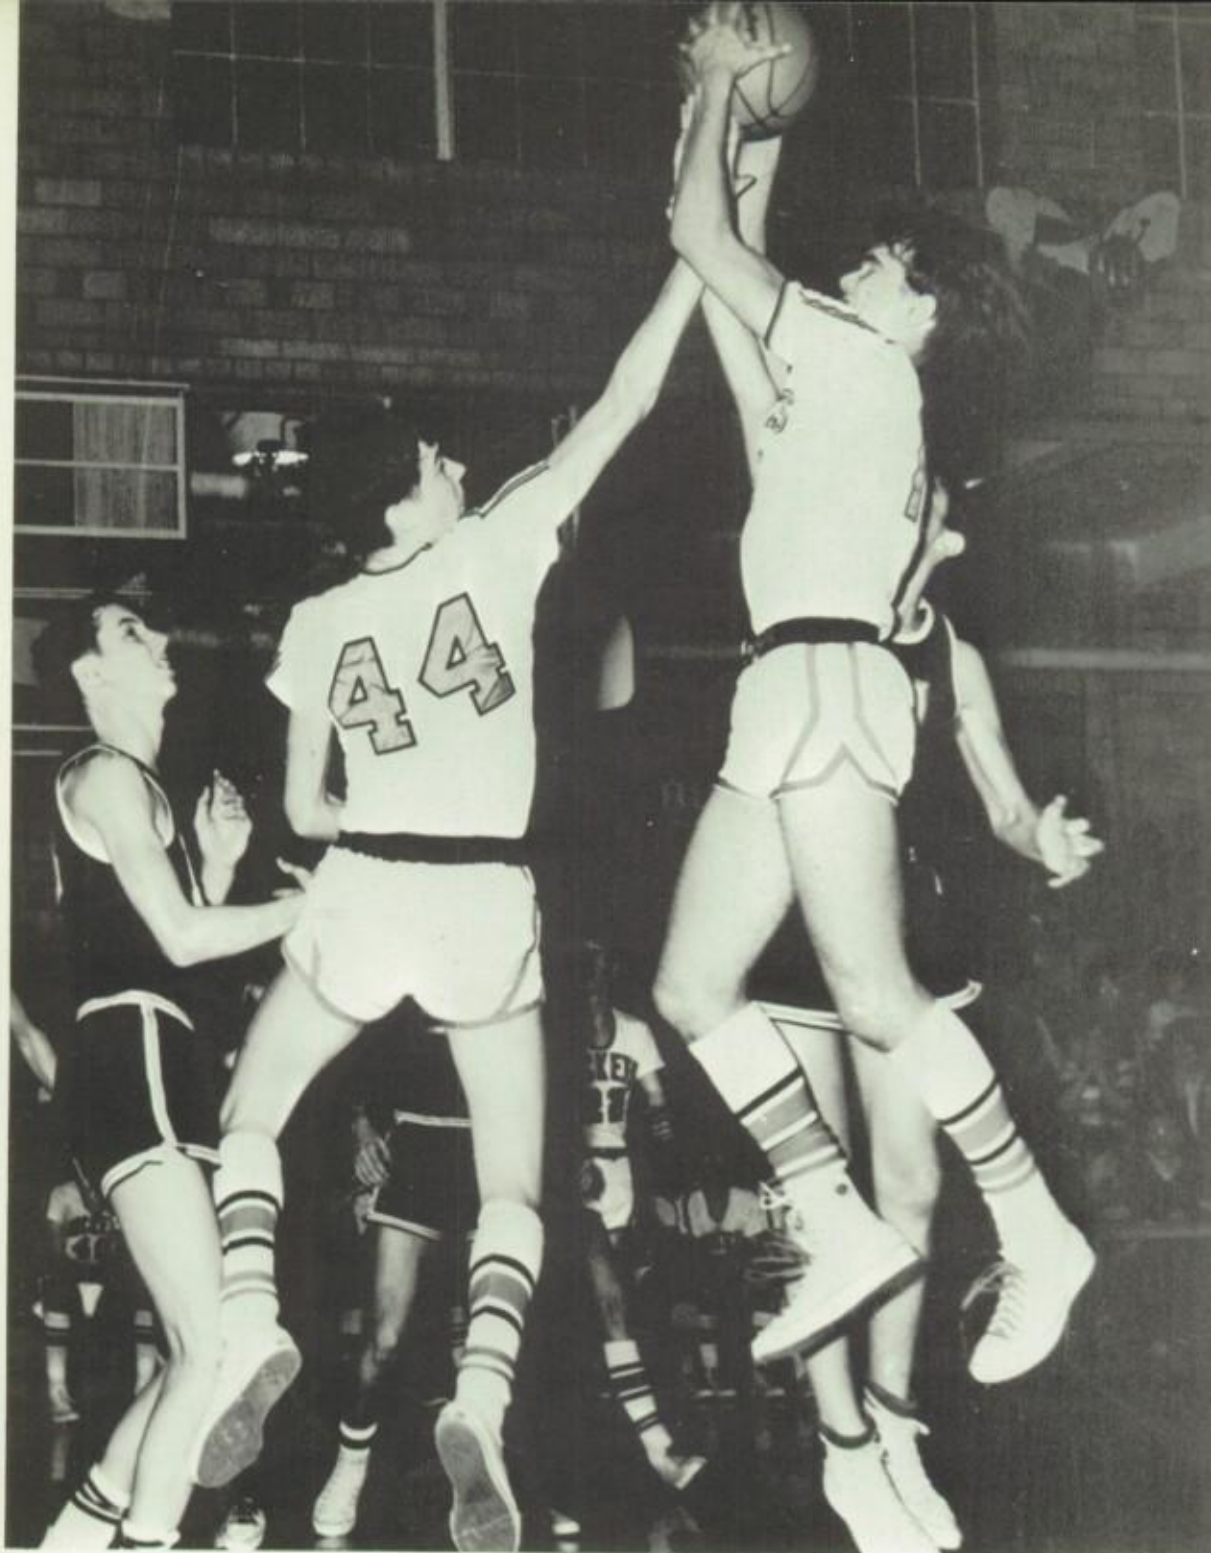

Highlights of the regular season were stunning state-ranked Worthington 66-64, topping Upper Arlington 73-71 and slaughtering old rival Urbana 104-75.

Reserves Achieve 10-8 Logue

The reserve team, affectionately known as the Junior Jackets, showed a better season than the varsity as they achieved a 10-8 record.

It was harder for the Junior Jackets because of their tremendous height disadvantage.

Coach Ron Lucas, in his first year as a basketball coach, praised the work of juniors Doug Warrick and Jim Kennedy, sophomore playmakers Doug Savage and leading rebounder Jeff Martin. He also complimented the squad on their great desire.

The prime purpose of the squad was to gain experience: they indicated they did.

You can almost hear the alma mater song echo through the empty halls;

A locker door hangs slightly open, empty except for a faded, forgotten orange and black pennant;

A pencil-scarred chemistry book is warmed by the sunlight on a window sill in the lab;

Dandelions push through the earth that was clawed by football cleats just a few months ago;

... And you can almost hear the alma mater song echo through the empty halls.

Cooper-Bessemer Company sincerely hopes you will carry these memories with you for many years to come. The Class of 1968 will soon be following the four winds. But maybe five years, ten years or even a quarter-of-a-century from now you will retrace your steps, rekindle your memories ... and maybe you will almost hear the alma mater song echo through the empty halls.

In Retrospect . . .

As the final pages of the '68 Forum are sent to Dallas, it seems unbelievable that the book is complete.

The staff is now yawning . . . happily, but also sighing in relief as they realize this final work day has come to an end.

We now know that the hardest part of working on the Forum is adjusting to the long night-time hours, but also that it is well worth it.

With the Forum completed, a giant vacuum will appear in many daily routines.

We Thank . . .

Being on the Forum staff, ejects a person into the wild world of the Publications Department.

Besides our staff members, we would like to express deep appreciation to these people:

Mr. Clifford Jump, principal, who allowed us a free reign in the use of facilities and levity.

Dave Newton, who spent many man-hours with ideas on layout.

John Nixon, Mike Radabaugh, and Greg Wilson, our photographers who put in the most hours. They were out-timed only by our advisor.

Guy E. Lipps, Gerald Smoke, James Warner, D. Gaverick and the Mount Vernon News, who all contributed outside photography.

Dave Magill, Linda Laymon, Doug Callihan, and Larry Spetka, non-staffers, who helped immensely.

Finally we want to express the deepest, sincerest, profound thank-you to Mr. William Odroneic, advisor, and Miss Linda Lawrence for their time, ideas, and astute contributions. They are a combination that can't be beat.

Autographs
